

Washington's Landing, an industrial brownfield site once named Herr's Island, was previously contaminated by a meat packing plant and scrap yard. The 42 acre island is located along Allegheny River in the neighborhood of Troy Hill. With clean-up treatments and stabilization efforts, the site has become an ideal place for upscale residential, offices and parks in close proximity to Downtown Pittsburgh.