PROGRESS*

Please provide an update on the progress of your program or project, as outlined in your proposal and goal sheets.

This summer we engaged with a dozen teens in a paid summer program that provided training in event production, streaming, video production, djing, and exploration around the greater Pittsburgh Area.

IMPACT*

Please describe the impact of your program or project on violence in your neighborhood(s).

Our programs encourage students to participate in community events, create neighborhood-based projects, and mentor younger elementary-aged students in our area.

Our Carrick Community Day event welcomed more than 400 attendees from the area.

Share Your Stories

Share any stories that illustrate your progress or significant milestones in your project, program, or organization.

Feel free to provide any links to social media posts or to upload flyers or other promotional materials.

This summer, we worked with a few introverted students that, throughout the summer, opened up about their interests, their lives, and where they envision themselves in the future. Our work is rooted in Event and Media production, but allows students to learn technical job skills while exploring their creative outputs. Many of the students we work with do not envision themselves in college. So, our programs allow them to learn a skill they can use to gain employment with a career track.

We took students on their first Kayaking trip, to explore local parks like Transverse Park and make videos of their experience there. Students also explored Sound Foley work where they made the background sounds for videos.
